So Barrel decided to show the Hash what his work is all about in Tokat by having the RV for this Run 17 alongside a Waste Water Treatment plant. We could home in on the RV from about a kilometre away – phceewwww, what a smell!! Attendees were down this week to 10 stalwart hashers. Culture Vulture welcomed all to the Hash – especially visiting hares Barrel and Noddy with daughter Tinkerbelle. Barrel did the usual hare false information bit about the trail before Culture Vulture duly awarded him with the Hashit in recognition of the RV location.

ON-ON called with Three Lira and Culture Vulture leading the pack off down the hill with Tinkerbelle in hot pursuit. Fortunately it didn't take too long to free ourselves of the smell hanging over the RV. The trail was pretty well marked, but Culture Vulture demonstrated his Hashing skills by managing to find all the falsies as usual – best not to follow Culture Vulture from a check. Three Lira seemed to find the correct trail first time at each check. Shitter, Şafak, and Tinkerbelle all followed Three Lira fairly well most of the trail with Culture Vulture continually trying to catch them up after each check, Barrel and William varying in position behind them, Semen following gently further back and with Virgin and Noddy bringing up the rear as usual.

Up and down we went. Round and round we went and eventually arrived at welcome Beer Stop down on the sea front. Somewhere along the trail to this point, Shitter managed to live up to his Hash name. Plenty of rest at the Beer Stop and ON-ON called by the GM as the light was beginning to fade. On the way back up to the RV, at each check Culture Vulture carefully pointed Three Lira up the trails CV would normally have followed and thus managed to keep in the lead – devious ploy.

Funny how a few beers dull the senses as the atmosphere in the Circle back at the RV didn't seem as bad as before. The usual DOWN DOWNS were awarded with no one being left out. Notable DOWN DOWNS were: Hares (of course), Virgin who still manages to keep one run ahead of the official tally, Semen for forgetting to award a DOWN DOWN to the Hashit, and several to Shitter because it seemed right to do so.

ON-ON-ON back to the beer stop for a bit of refreshment to end a good day.

No pictures on this Hash due to the absence of 2 El Dishwasher or a delegated Hash Flash, although there were one or two by Noddy on her flashy mobile 'phone, but I haven't received them yet

On the Wednesday following, the Hash BBQ was held at Culture Vulture's and Virgin's place in Gümüslük, starting at 2pm and finishing somewhere around midnight. Most of the Hashers from the run on Monday were there, but with the addition of Semen's brother and sister-in-law, Primitive, and two visiting hashers from Swansea Hash (Pussy Galore and).

Plenty of food was eaten and plenty of Efes drunk (together with much wine and some G&T that Shitter had prepared and brought for Şafak). The weather was kind (thank you Semen) even though the morning had threatened rain.

A few brave souls ventured into the pool (mainly visiting Hashers it has to be said), but everyone behaved with impeccable manners and taste for a Hash BBQ – no-one thrown in the pool against their wishes!

We were graced with later visits from Lightfoot and Second Hand Dishwasher (with workmate) who are not retired like the rest of us lucky souls.

There were a few Pictures taken by William, but he has trouble downloading them and sending them on and now he is in Cappadocia. Therefore no picture at all this week!!
